Non Degree Seeking Student Certification for Prerequisite Courses

PREREQUISITE COURSES

If the student is enrolled in prerequisite coursework required for entrance into a degree program at Radford University, he/she may be eligible to borrow under the Federal Stafford Loan program. Students under this exception are eligible to borrow for only a one-year period once in their lifetime. Students taking prerequisite courses for entrance into a graduate degree program may borrow no more than $5,500 subsidized Federal Direct Loan and, if an independent student, no more than $7,000 unsubsidized Federal Direct Loan (amounts can total no more than the student's graduate cost of attendance). The undergraduate total debt limits apply to borrowers in this category. Students must be enrolled in at least 6 credit hours to be considered for the above aid.
